

"The only thing we have to fear is fear itself—nameless, unreasoning, unjustified terror which paralyzes needed efforts to convert retreat into advance." — Franklin D. Roosevelt

"Give me liberty, or give me death!" — Patrick Henry

"The worth of a man is in proportion to the objects he pursues, and freedom of assembly and discussion is the safeguard of liberty itself." — John Stuart Mill

"Our lives begin to end the day we become silent about things that matter." — Martin Luther King Jr.

"The simple step of a courageous individual is not to take part in the lie. One word of truth outweighs the world." — Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn

"Freedom is never more than one generation away from extinction. It must be fought for, protected, and handed on." — Ronald Reagan

"The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing." — Edmund Burke

"If freedom of speech is taken away, then dumb and silent we may be led, like sheep to the slaughter." — George Washington

"A little rebellion now and then is a medicine necessary for the sound health of government." — Thomas Jefferson

"Silence in the face of evil is itself evil: God will not hold us guiltless. Not to speak is to speak. Not to act is to act." — Dietrich Bonhoeffer

"Those who would give up essential Liberty, to purchase a little temporary Safety, deserve neither Liberty nor Safety." — Benjamin Franklin

"Fear is a reaction. Courage is a decision." — Winston Churchill

"Liberty must at all hazards be supported. We have a right to it, derived from our Maker." — John Adams
